Public Comments

Chairman Garber asked for public comment and recognized Mr. Doug Daigle, LA Hypoxia Workgroup Coordinator. The LA Hypoxia Work group's focus is to promote and support the Gulf Hypoxia Action Plan with Louisiana being 1 of 11 signatory states on the plan. Mr. Daigle said he always reminds folks that the Action Plan is a cooperative plan with voluntary actions. There aren't any mandates with this plan, but he believes it is important for Louisiana to do its part as well as support the other states in their efforts. Under the Action Plan, each state was asked to develop a nutrient reduction strategy. Louisiana's initial 5-year strategy was published in 2014 with plans to regroup and update the strategy as necessary. The original group included representatives from CPRA and DEQ among others and recently updated the original strategy. The updated strategy was released for public comment about a month ago with a 30-day comment period. Mr. Daigle believes that the updated strategy is insufficient, and others have proposed coming back in 2029 to update the existing strategy. The current strategy proposal is approximately 100 pages with about 17 pages of references. He believes it's an overload of information that can be minimized, clarified, and improved.

Charman Garber thanked Mr. Daigle for the update and asked the SWCC members if there were any questions for Mr. Daigle.

Board members voiced their concerns about the Commission's role and having direction as to what needs to be taken care of at the Area level. They also discussed LACD and asked them to begin to develop some long-range plans. Board members stated that there are quite a few new members on district boards who need communication and discussion of differentiating the entities of the Louisiana conservation partnership. Mr. Breaux said that it isn't easy to attend all area-wide monthly board meetings. He said the OSWC would be happy to assist with Commission members trying to communicate with districts in their Areas, in person or via email.

NEW BUSINESS

NRCS State Conservationist Report- Mr. Steven Cole, Acting NRCS State Conservationist

Mr. Cole thanked and introduced Ms. Candis Voorhies, Assistant State Conservationist for Partnerships and Initiatives, and Ms. Jennifer Gorham, Executive Assistant. He said there hasn't been much change since his last report. He wanted to reiterate that this year's budget is 30-35% more than last year. LA NRCS has received their new FY budget for all programs and is estimated to be around $109 million. Mr. Cole said he met with the senior leadership team recently to develop FY 25 budget, and they made some great strides. He said he wants LA NRCS staff and district staff to start thinking about the future and everything that's ahead. He has not heard anything further regarding Farm Bill funding but feels that agriculture won't have to deal with a decrease in funding. He reported that his detail ends on Friday and that he will be returning to Minnesota. Mr. Cole said that he will appoint someone on his staff to become the Acting State Conservationist and NRCS has reposted the advertisement for the LA State Conservationist. Ms. Amanda Mathis was named Arkansas's NRCS State Conservationist and will begin on December 29, 2024.

LSU AgCenter Report- Dr. Michael Salassi, LSU AgCenter

Dr. Salassi mentioned that LSU received approximately $4 million worth of research equipment this year through State Appropriations. Any State Appropriation funds must be used before the end of the state fiscal year in which they are received. Last year, LSU was able to receive $11 million through state funding for their research stations. This funding did not have any time limits. Louisiana was approved for $1.3 million dollars to enhance broadband use. LSU submitted a proposal for a $20 million that would put sensors on farms to collect soil moisture, weather, and support research for extension centers.

Dr. Salassi said LSU AgCenter recently hired Dr. Saulo Castro, Soybean/Sugarcane Agronomist at the Dean Lee Research Station in September. He recently got approved for some funding through the Sugarcane Board.

Dr. Dorin Boldor, Professor in the Biological and Agricultural Engineering Department, was recently approved for a $143,000 grant from the Water Institute of the Gulf to develop automated tools for water quality assessments along the coast. He would build robotic devices to take water quality measurements along the coast.

Over the past few months, Commodity boards have met to discuss different research proposals submitted and which ones they would fund. The Rice Research Board met and decided to approve $1.3 million in research projects as well as another $340,000 worth of infrastructure improvements at the rice research stations. Louisiana Soybean and Grain Promotion Board met a few weeks ago and approved $1.6 million worth of funding to the AgCenter for different projects as well.

OSWC Update

Mr. Breaux said Ms. Caitlin Joubert, OSWC's Outreach Coordinator, has been working with conservation districts and individual supervisors with land uses regarding conservation initiatives, priorities and successes. These efforts have culminated in development of the "Good Lands" video series which includes 3 episodes so far. The first episode was rice specific and included Mr. Glenn Simon from Acadia SWCD and Mr. Jeff Durand from St. Martin SWCD. The second one included discussion of silvopasture, prescribed burning and prescribed grazing with Mr. David Daigle. The most recent video highlights an innovative sugarcane harvesting technique that was recently approved as an EPA 319 cost share practice for landowners in a priority watershed. OSWC is working to reduce sedimentation in this watershed believed to be emanating from cropland in Lake False Point. The SWCC members viewed this episode of "Good Lands" that featuring Mr. Buddy Oubre discussing the impact of his Residue Management Modification. Mr. Breaux said he has been working with Mr. Ken Gravois to get some brine release agriculture site recovery plans approved to present to DEQ. These plans include sites in lower West Iberville over into East St. James Parish. Mr. Breaux also wanted to remind Commission members about the National Watershed Coalition webinar that is scheduled for January 15, 2025. Mr. Breaux reported that he had a meeting with Commissioner Strain and his executive staff regarding the upcoming LDAF Executive Budget request, which includes the district budget. Commissioner Strain submitted his executive budget to state legislation that included $2 million for the district budget. With this, we don't have to ask for an amendment that has been done previously but we do have to be prepared to support the Commissioner's budget.

Supervisor Waivers/ Resignations/ Appointments / Reappointments

Chairman Garber said there is 2 resignations this month:

- Mr. Gary Greene, Dorcheat SWCD, elected position, effective October 24, 2024
- Mr. Ross Neil Record, Feliciana SWCD, appointed position, effective November 19, 2024.

Chairman Garber said if there were no comments, he would call for a motion to approve the following SWCD supervisor resignations for:

- Mr. Gary Greene, Dorcheat SWCD, elected position, effective October 24, 2024
- Mr. Ross Neil Record, Feliciana SWCD, appointed position, effective November 19, 2024.

Motion by: Mr. Brad Spicer

Seconded by: Mr. Ben Langlinais

Motion passed unanimously.

SWCC Goals

Chairman Garber mentioned discussions regarding long range goals for the Commission as well as LACD at the election this morning. He let the group know that the Commission has a set of goals and has already accomplished one of the goals to "Improve District's Direct State Funding" and is still being worked on. The group also discussed goals for LACD which is in process. Chairman Garber asked the Commission members what goals should be prioritized next. Chairman Garber said that maybe the Commission should focus on improving policy and procedures for employee management. He asked Mr. Breaux for his thoughts on the next priorities. Mr. Breaux said that district boards review PPMs at their regular board meetings. District boards sometimes lose sight of the fact that they are governmental units and political subdivisions of the state. Regarding personnel, there has never been a SWCC requirement that boards develop personal management plans, but we did recently review the SWCD personnel management policy template. Mr. Spicer discussed resending the job description templates to districts which can give them a template to create their own specific job description for their district. Mr. Breaux suggested adding “#4: Commission and District Board Communication Plan” under Supervisor and Personnel Management. One of the key points discussed this morning was getting communication from Commission members to their Areas. Mr. Breaux said he believes that district boards can sometime forget to reach out to their SWCC representative as well. Currently, there are not any guidelines for Commission members attending meetings. Chairman Garber suggested Commission representatives attend at least one board meeting for each district they represent during their 3-year term at minimum. Mr. Breaux said Commission representatives can also use simple forms of communication such as emailing and telephoning their area districts to stay close and be informed of what is happening in that area.
