CLARIFICATION

1. Question: Upon examination of the site, this vendor notes that there is not an existing 32' x 47' concrete slab on site but rather, there is an existing oddly shaped concrete slab. Is it the intention of the owner that the awarded vendor will properly excavate around the perimeter of the existing oddly shaped slab and install new concrete to connect to the existing concrete slab using 3/8" diameter rebar, dowel inserted into the existing concrete slab at horizontal depths of 12" and rebar dowels spaced every 36" around the perimeter of the existing slab where the existing concrete joins to the new concrete, in order to create a rectangular slab measuring 32' x 47' for the base of this design?

Answer: JPRD (owner) will furnish the existing concrete slab 32'x47'. If needed any and all cutting into concrete will be completed by awarded vendor. All components must fit on existing concrete slab.

Sincerely,
