With the increased acceptance and usage of contactless payments in the U.S., providing a secure experience for cardholders is critical. If you support contactless transactions, your terminal(s) must support EMV-based contactless technology.

The legacy contactless magnetic stripe data (MSD) mode was retired per card brand mandates. EMV-based contactless technology, qVSDC, has been used globally for many years and is considered best practice industry-wide. Similar to contact chip cards, EMV contactless supports cryptographic functionality for more secure transactions than legacy MSD contactless.

Effective April 1, 2023, Mastercard and Visa will no longer allow processing of MSD contactless transactions. Merchants that support contactless transactions must support EMV contactless capabilities.

Read the requirements and potential fees by card brand below:

Mastercard: Effective April 1, 2023, all contactless-enabled POS terminals must only support EMV contactless transactions. Magnetic Stripe (MSD) mode contactless must not be supported. You may be billed a fee of $250 per quarter if identified by Mastercard as having processed one or more MSD contactless transactions on or after April 1, 2023. The quarterly fee would appear on the January, April, July, or October monthly statement.

Visa: Effective April 1, 2023, MSD Contactless will no longer be supported. Transactions may decline. A fee of $0.10 per transaction identified with POS Entry Mode (91) MSD would appear on the applicable monthly statement.

If you do not currently support EMV-based contactless, it is highly encouraged that you update your device(s) to accept EMV contactless transactions to avoid future assessments.

You should contact your POS provider to upgrade your device(s).

Clients that are unable to support EMV-based contactless technology should consider disabling contactless capabilities at their store locations to avoid future fee(s).

With the increased acceptance and usage of contactless payments in the U.S., providing a secure experience for cardholders is critical. If you support contactless transactions, your terminal(s) must support EMV-based contactless technology.

American Express does not charge "interchange." For Amex, this amount is the percentage fee applicable to your Amex card transactions.

The legacy contactless magnetic stripe data (MSD) mode was retired per card brand mandates. EMV-based contactless technology, qVSDC, has been used globally for many years and is considered best practice industry-wide. Similar to contact chip cards, EMV contactless supports cryptographic functionality for more secure transactions than legacy MSD contactless.

Effective April 1, 2023, Mastercard and Visa will no longer allow processing of MSD contactless transactions. Merchants that support contactless transactions must support EMV contactless capabilities.

Read the requirements and potential fees by card brand below:

Mastercard: Effective April 1, 2023, all contactless-enabled POS terminals must only support EMV contactless transactions. Magnetic Stripe (MSD) mode contactless must not be supported. You may be billed a fee of $250 per quarter if identified by Mastercard as having processed one or more MSD contactless transactions on or after April 1, 2023. The quarterly fee would appear on the January, April, July, or October monthly statement.

Visa: Effective April 1, 2023, MSD Contactless will no longer be supported. Transactions may decline. A fee of $0.10 per transaction identified with POS Entry Mode (91) MSD would appear on the applicable monthly statement.

If you do not currently support EMV-based contactless, it is highly encouraged that you update your device(s) to accept EMV contactless transactions to avoid future assessments.

You should contact your POS provider to upgrade your device(s).

Clients that are unable to support EMV-based contactless technology should consider disabling contactless capabilities at their store locations to avoid future fee(s).

Get help to claim your fair share of Fee Settlement Recovery

Visa/Mastercard Interchange Fee Settlement Recovery

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/ Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most – your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

What is the Visa/Mastercard Interchange Fee Settlement Recovery?

A lawsuit was filed that claimed merchants paid excessive interchange or swipe fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments because of an alleged conspiracy among Visa, Mastercard and the Bank Defendants.

After years of delays, the court approved this settlement, the proposed claim form, and the tentative claim filing period. The claim filing process is expected to open in December 2023.

Do I qualify to file a claim for revenue recovery from the Fee Settlement?

If your organization accepted Visa or MasterCard payments in the U.S. at any time from January 1, 2004, to January 25, 2019, you may be eligible to recover significant funds from this Settlement.

What is required to file a claim for Fee Settlement Recovery?

Maximizing your share of the funds may involve collecting, filing and tracking information from multiple store locations, if applicable, and merchant IDs - which could be a time-consuming and arduous task. The filing process is expected to begin in December 2023.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR ACCOUNT

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Under our acquiring and sponsorship agreements, the Card Brands bill Fiserv fees for several services and processes within the Payments ecosystem. A portion of these fees is related to actions taken by our clients within the Card Brand dispute process. These particular Card Brand dispute related fees are amounts in addition to and distinguished from the internal operational expenses Fiserv incurs in dispute processing and maintenance for which we charge our clients a per item Dispute fee. Though clients are responsible for these Card Brand dispute fee amounts, historically, Fiserv has only passed through a small portion of them to our clients and absorbed the rest. However, due to the extensive and overall increase in these dispute related Card Brand charges, they can no longer be absorbed by Fiserv. Card Brand dispute fees associated with your transactions will be specifically added to your account and thus appear on your month-end statement in the next billing cycle. Our team is available to answer any questions you may have.

Get help to claim your fair share of Fee Settlement Recovery

Visa/Mastercard Interchange Fee Settlement Recovery

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/ Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most – your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

You may be aware that in September, a judge recently approved the Visa/Mastercard class action settlement for a lawsuit alleging merchants paid excessive interchange fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments over a 15-year period.

If your business accepted Visa or Mastercard at any point between January 2004 and January 2019, you may be eligible to recover a portion of the settlement. The $5.5 billion+ settlement fund will be distributed among merchants who did not opt out of the class action. Merchants must file a claim to be eligible for any distributions.

We recognize that class action settlements can be very complicated and that you prefer to focus on what matters most - your business. We have partnered with MCAG, a class-action settlement expert, to assist you in the claims process to receive any eligible funds from the settlement with minimal effort.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Visa/Mastercard Interchange Fee Settlement Recovery?

A lawsuit was filed that claimed merchants paid excessive interchange or swipe fees for accepting Visa and Mastercard payments because of an alleged conspiracy among Visa, Mastercard and the Bank Defendants. After years of delays, the court approved this settlement, the proposed claim form, and the tentative claim filing period. The claim filing process is expected to open in December 2023.

Do I qualify to file a claim for revenue recovery from the Fee Settlement?

If your organization accepted Visa or MasterCard payments in the U.S. at any time from January 1, 2004, to January 25, 2019, you may be eligible to recover significant funds from this Settlement.

What is required to file a claim for Fee Settlement Recovery?

Independently filing to claim your share of the funds would require you to collect, file, and track sales transactions data from multiple store locations, if applicable, and merchant IDs which may be a time-consuming and arduous task. The filing deadline is May 1st, 2024.

How can we help you file your Fee Settlement claim?

We have partnered with MCAG, a class action settlement recovery expert, to help you meet submission requirements and claim your share of the funds with minimal effort. Enrolling in MCAG services is completely optional. Their recovery service includes all the necessary data analysis, document preparation, claims filing, recovery, and reconciliation for enrolled businesses. If no money is recovered, MCAG will not charge or retain a fee.

What services does MCAG provide as part of the Settlement Recovery Service?

Provide guidance and assistance in retrieving the applicable documentation and information.

Prepare any required forms and ensure an accurate and timely claim submission.

Work with settlement administrators to reconcile and distribute the appropriate recovery under the terms of the settlements.

How do I enroll in the MCAG service to file my recovery claim to the Settlement Administrator for my business?

To enroll in MCAG's services, visit mcagregister.com and enter access code FDCIRA. You may sign up now to get a head start, even before the Settlement Claims process is announced. MCAG will file and manage your claim, after the Settlement Process opens.

Do you provide legal advice?

No. MCAG and Fiserv do not practice law nor provide legal counsel. As a class action settlement expert, MCAG handles all of the settlement administration details including preparing and submitting any required documentation and claim forms. They also work with settlement administrators to reconcile and distribute appropriate recoveries under the terms of the settlements. If you want legal advice or legal services, you should contact class counsel or an attorney of your choosing.

Payment Card Settlement Disclaimer: claim forms will begin to be delivered and available online in December 2023. No-cost assistance is available from the Class Administrator and Class Counsel during the claims-filing period. No one is required to sign up with any third-party service in order to participate in any monetary relief. For additional information regarding the status of the litigation, interested persons may visit paymentcardsettlement.com, the Court-approved website for this case.
